

Banning the sale of tobacco to the young generation could prevent 1.2 million lung cancer deaths by 2095

North America

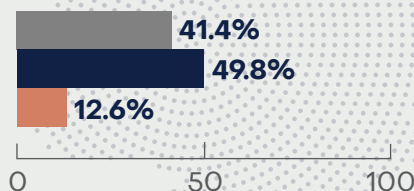

Latin America and the Caribbean

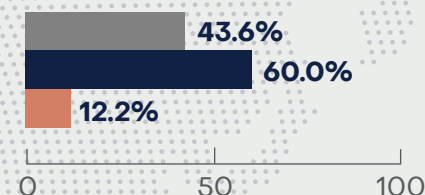

Northern Europe

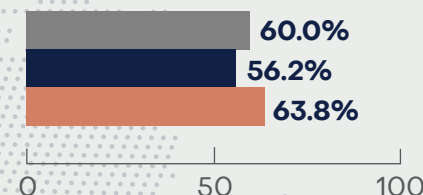

Northern Africa

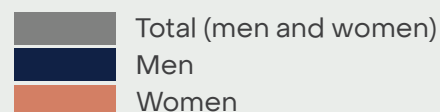

Eastern Asia, including China

Australia and New Zealand

Proportion (%) of preventable deaths out of the total number of expected lung cancer deaths (100%) in each category

International Agency for Research on Cancer